

1 An edible greeting card suitable for ingestion by a pet, comprising:

2 a rawhide panel embossed with at least one graphical image of a pet and at least one textual message; and

4 wherein the image and message together give a purchaser the impression that a pet is the intended recipient of the card.

2. The edible greeting card of claim 1, further comprising:

2 at least two rawhide panels; and wherein the panels are joined in a manner suitable for ingestion by the pet.

3. The edible greeting card of claim 2, wherein each panel has a set of holes along one edge, and the panels are joined using a pet-edible lacing through the holes of both panels.

4. The edible greeting card of claim 2, wherein the panels are joined with a rawhide hinge.
